● ABOUT ME

I'm an agricultural engineer in rural development with impressive qualification and experience, fifteen (15) years of experience in managing development projects and humanitarian initiatives. My expertise spans the entire project management cycle, including design, planning, implementation monitoring, and impact evaluation. My collaboration with government institutions, World Bank projects, and my ongoing experience with the World Food Programme (WFP) demonstrates a diverse and extensive skill set.

My involvement in the conception, planning, implementation monitoring, and impact evaluation of projects focused on adaptive social protection schemes underscores my ability to navigate the entire project lifecycle. Working within government contexts and in projects funded by the World Bank has undoubtedly strengthened my understanding of complex development issues.

My ongoing commitment to the World Food Programme reflects my dedication to contributing to humanitarian initiatives and global food security.
